The Eucharist, Sacrament of Sacraments: Eucharistic Miracles

A Teaching From Fr Alain

A survey among Catholic Christians asking which sacrament inspires the greatest fervor and adoration would obviously point to the sacrament of the Body and Blood of Jesus. Indeed, the Eucharist is the soul and beating heart of the Catholic Church, like the breath that animates and sustains life. It is the mystery that gathers the people of God and their shepherds daily in the presence of God.

This sacrament of the Church has always raised many questions among both believers and non-believers alike: are the consecrated bread and wine truly the Body and Blood of Jesus?

Some Accounts of Eucharistic Miracles

Among the vast harvest of Eucharistic miracles, we can only select a very small number from different places and times in the life of the Church. You're encouraged to read more about these miracles, either from the full teaching on our website, or by researching them online.

- The Oldest Eucharistic Miracle: Lanciano (Italy, around 750 AD)
- Eucharistic Miracle of Scete in Egypt (3rd Century)
- Marthe Robin (1902-1981): The Eucharist as Her Only Food for 53 Years
- Eucharistic Miracle of Sokółka (Poland, October 12, 2008)

Real Presence and the Living Reality of Jesus Today

The few accounts of Eucharistic miracles presented above are marvelous. Beyond their wondrous nature, they reassure us of the effective presence of Jesus in His Church through the species of bread and wine consecrated by a validly ordained priest in communion with the bishop, who himself is in communion with the Pope. This means that the extraordinary act performed by Jesus on the eve of His death, together with His words, "Do this in memory of me," is a true transmission of the power and grace to renew Jesus' sacrifice on the Cross for the salvation of the world. The Mass is therefore the unbloody renewal of the sacrifice of the Cross. This grace has been entrusted to the Church, which must perpetuate it until the end of time through the exercise of the priestly ministry.

Indeed, the priest is the minister of the Eucharist. Every priest in the Catholic Church receives this grace and ministry from a bishop, successor of the Apostles. This means that apostolic succession ensures the continuation of the priestly authority conferred upon priests through priestly ordination.

The Day of Pentecost

In this gentle children's liturgy, we celebrate Pentecost, the day the Holy Spirit came upon the disciples with a mighty rushing wind and tongues of fire.

The Sacred Heart of Jesus

Using passages from Sacred Scripture, Dr. Tim Gray and Dr. Ben Akers discuss the Church's teaching on the Sacred Heart and the background of the devotion.
